A special train carrying food arrived in Sofia from Pleven 19 August 1950. It was hauled by Locomotive 1210, the finest of its type, bearing the inscription "Peace Train." Every car was decorated with peace slogans. The train was formed to celebrate Vulko Chervenkov's 50th birthday. The engineer, Khr. Atanasov, speaking for the entire crew, stated that they represented the Stalin Peace Guard and had pledged to increase the daily run of the locomotive by 90 percent, to use 35 to 40 percent lignite regularly, to save over 180 tons of coal during August, and to reduce the current repair rate of the locomotive to 0.44 leva. Conductor Yordan Dragoev pledged to work as assistant brakeman simultaneously with other duties during the trips.

The special Peace Train was greeted at the station by representatives of the Ministry of Transportation, the political section of the Sofia Railroad, and groups of citizens and railroad workers.
